Greetings from the University of Zurich

On behalf of the University of Zurich, I would like to welcome you to the 4th Global Science Film Festival - a wonderful opportunity to see science communication skills in filmmaking and storytelling put into practice. Efficient as well as inspired communication on scientific topics between the research community and the public is an essential building block for mutual trust and understanding of research processes and results, and I am curious to discover with you the wealth of ideas and pictures presented on 19-28 November.

Prof. Dr. Elisabeth Stark
Vice President Research
University of Zurich
Greetings from ETH Zurich

On behalf of ETH Zurich, I welcome you to the 4th Global Science Film Festival – a perfect place where art meets science. Science is full of wonderful and fascinating stories. Planet Earth is facing unprecedented challenges; the dialogue between scientists and the public is more important than ever. The world needs compelling storytelling in all sorts of shape and formats. Films – "The shortest distance between science and society" – are one such creative format that can spark dialogue and reflection. I look forward to stimulating films and inspiring conversations.

Dr. Jürg Brunnschweiler
Chief of Staff to the President
ETH Zurich
Greetings from the University of Bern

A film can raise general awareness for a topic, that has been on the agenda of scientists for years. A film could also initiate a social debate and motivate scientific research in a highly relevant subject matter.

We need meaningful visualizations of contemporary research as well as multi-voiced debates about issues of our time. As the Faculty of Science of the University of Bern, we are happy to support this initiative and I am delighted about the extremely multi-faceted program of the Global Science Film Festival. You will be surprised! I wish you much inspiration, new discoveries and lots of pleasure!

Zoltan Balogh
Dean Faculty of Science
University of Bern
Greetings from Karger Publishers

As a sponsor of both the Festival and the Science Filmmaking Marathon, it is a pleasure to see how scientists use the art of storytelling to explain their research to a broader audience. For Karger Publishers, the promotion and support of early-career scientists is an important mission as we invest in the future of science and society. We're very much looking forward to seeing the GSFF reach its goal of serving the information needs of the scientific community and the public alike.

Gabriella Karger (Chairwoman, Karger Publishers)
Daniel Ebneter (CEO, Karger Publishers)
Greetings from the festival organizers

Today, more than ever, society is calling upon scientists to address humanity’s concerns and advise those in charge. Particularly in current times we see the need of fostering trustworthy and fruitful communication of scientific content to the wide public. With our motto “the shortest distance between science and society is cinema” we are welcoming you to our 4th Global Science Film Festival. We invite you to become part of a space for exchange and collaboration, where filmmakers, researchers and different audiences share this unique experience of sitting together in a cinema, watching and discussing films.

TEACHING, PRODUCING, SHOWING...since 2014

TEACHING
We teach how to make scientific films for more than 150 Swiss scientists from 11 Swiss universities and research centres per year.

PRODUCING
We produce science films and photos by organising the science filmmaking and photo marathons.

SHOWING
We screen and award Swiss and international films, with a special category for young Swiss scientists who produce films in a non-professional way.

NETZ-NATUR 1988-2021

Vanishing of culture…
extinction of nature
SWISS NATIONAL PARK: 100 YEARS OF SOLITUDE
(Out of competition)

GENRE: Documentary
COUNTRIES: Switzerland
YEAR: 2014
LENGTH: 90 min
LANGUAGES: German

To celebrate the 100th anniversary of the Swiss National Park in 2014, the SRF broadcast series NETZ NATUR produced a documentary that tells the story of wildlife in the unique Swiss National Park from unusual perspectives. At the beginning, the documentary looks back millions of years, and tells the story of this impressive mountain landscape and its inhabitants. They answer questions on how it has been changed by humans over the past centuries, and how it finally achieved complete nature protection status in 1914 as the first National Park in Europe. Highlights include close-ups of completely undisturbed wildlife in their most private moments, recorded by dozens of hidden automatic wildlife cameras in the entire park area.

Vanishing of culture...extinction of nature

Filmmaker: Andreas Moser (Director & Writer)
Experts: Heinrich Haller (former director of the Swiss National Park)
Silva Semadeni (former member of the National Council of Switzerland and former President of Pro Natura)
Moderator: Isabella Sedivy (Plan Biodivers)

Andreas Moser studied biology and graduated from the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute with a thesis on wild venomous snakes in the Swiss Alps. During his studies he trained his skills in science journalism and nature photography. From 1987 to 2021 he worked at the Swiss National Television (SRF). As head of a Nature Program Unit, he produced and presented the Series NETZ NATUR, which has a total of more than 210 hours of documentaries on the topics of the coexistence of humans and nature mainly in Switzerland. For this series, he received several awards, including the Prix Media 2011 from the Swiss Academy of Science (SCNAT), and the Zurich Radio- and Television Award 2016. In 2006 he received a honorary doctorate from the University of Zurich.
FULL-LENGTH FILMS
MAIN COMPETITION
The film takes on a walk alongside parasites, symbionts and decomposers offering ideas of both interconnectedness and collaboration. Driven by a vision of resistance, the encounters seek possibilities of renewal and question what connects us when the world seems to be falling apart. With mushrooms and their allies the film invites to imagine a myco-cultural (r)evolution. What if the fungus could help us address and radically change our relationship to this world?

The film explores the destruction of a unique train station in Zurich and the construction of the new prison and police centre in its place. From the perspective of the filmmaker’s window, and with testimony from prisoners awaiting deportation, the film probes how we deal with the extinction of history and its replacement with total security.

This captivating exploration of Alvar Aalto, the defining figure in Scandic design and one of Europe’s greatest modern architects, focuses on his remarkable and loving partnership with wife, Aino. Theirs was a profoundly humanist vision that put people at the centre of design, and ranged from work in furniture design through to huge architectural projects. They mixed with, and influenced, major figures of modernist art and design including Le Corbusier, Gropius, Moholy-Nagy, and Frank Lloyd Wright. Come on a cinematic tour of their iconic buildings all over the world, from a library in Russia, a student dormitory at MIT, an art collector’s private house near Paris, to a pavilion in Venice. Narrated by experts in the field and featuring never before seen archive footage, Aalto tells the love story of an extraordinary couple with a great passion for human scale architecture.

Virpi Suutari is an award winning filmmaker known for her personal cinematic style and emotional narratives. Her films have been shown all over the world. The Idle Ones (2002) was nominated for the Best European Documentary (EFA) and she has won several awards as the Best Nordic Documentary. Her film, Entrepreneur, was in the Masters selection at IDFA 2018. Virpi has received the national Jussi Award (the Finnish Oscars) three times and her latest film Aalto got three nominations in 2021.

Expert: Patrick Thurston (President Architektenverbands BSA)
Moderator: Henriette Bornkamm (SRF)
“When the glacial terminus broke, it marked the beginning of one of many waves.”

Storms unleash along Europe’s coastlines, taking their toll. Volunteers are preparing for winter. Injured seal pups are nurtured with liquid food and warmed with infra-red lamps. Oil-soiled swans are subjected to foam baths. One stares into the eye of a giant stranded whale. And the whale looks back. In poetic images, Robin Petré traces the gaze between humans and wild animals, narrates the close interweaving of habitats and closes the cycle from perpetrator to helper. Laying bare the ambivalent relationship between society and threatened eco-systems, the haunting imagery patiently and respectfully opens a space for deep reflection. A relentless gaze into the abyss of the Anthropocene.

Modern society sits at the intersection of two crucial questions: What does it mean when artificial intelligence (AI) increasingly governs our liberties? And what are the consequences for the people AI is biased against? When MIT Media Lab researcher Joy Buolamwini discovers that most facial-recognition software does not accurately identify darker-skinned faces and the faces of women, she delves into an investigation of widespread bias in algorithms. As it turns out, AI is not neutral, and women are leading the charge to ensure our civil rights are protected.

Director Shalini Kantayya illuminates our mass misconceptions about AI and emphasizes the urgent need for legislative protection. From facial scanning used for policing and surveillance to automated HR systems that mirror and magnify workplace prejudices, these technologies are created with fundamentally biased building blocks.

Moderator: Fupa Magic (Educator, multidisciplinary artist and facilitator)
The Scent of Fear is a journey around the globe, on which we meet people who freeze with fear, people who are looking for it, people who find it, and people who love it. There is this woman who sets out for the Arctic all alone. There are the radical society-wearies who set up their homes in bunkers, there is the fearful young Korean who learns in a seminar how to die happily. On the way we meet experts from neuroscience, psychology and politics who show us how our society is controlled by messages of fear. The Scent of Fear is an exciting and clever analysis of the universal question of why people are afraid of fear.

Mirjam von Arx (Director and Writer)

Mirjam von Arx studied journalism and worked for close to 20 years as a writer for various magazines. In 1991, she moved to New York and started directing her first films. In 2002 she founded the production company ican films, through which she has produced several award-winning theatrical documentaries, including VIRGIN TALES (Finalist Maysles Brothers Award 2012, Zurich Film Prize 2012). Her latest film THE SCENT OF FEAR won the Migros-Kulturprozent Swiss Documentary Competition and was nominated for the Prix de Soleure 2021. Mirjam von Arx is a member of the European Film Academy as well as the Swiss Film Academy.

A 10-year-old Roma boy living in Sweden attempts to come to terms with the mysterious Resignation syndrome that has put his two sisters in a coma. The tight-knit family is trying to rebuild a normal life far from their native Kosovo where they were victims of persecution. While their entire future hangs in the balance of a pending asylum request, the little boy dreams of building a spaceship to leave it all behind.

Dea Gjinovci (Director and Writer) (Zoom)
Naser Morina (University of Zurich)
Caroline Wiedmer (Franklin University)

Dea Gjinovci is a Swiss-Albanian director-producer based in between Paris and Geneva. She participated in the 2021 UnionDocs lab in NYC, the 2019 Sundance Talent Forum and is a 2019 Film Independent Fellow. Her award-winning documentary short ‘Sans le Kosovo’ won Best National Film at Dokufest in 2017. Her debut feature-length documentary ‘Wake Up on Mars’ was premiered virtually at the 2020 Tribeca Film Festival and Visions du Réel in Switzerland. She was awarded "Best New Talent" mention at Biografilm Festival 2020 and at ZagrebDox 2021. “Wake Up on Mars” was also nominated for the prestigious "Prix de Soleure" and "Opera Prima" awards at Solothurner Tage 2021. In June 2020, she founded the Geneva-based production company Astrae Productions. More recently, she has held conferences and masterclasses at different universities and film festivals.
Forensic Architecture is a research agency based at Goldsmiths, University of London, consisting of architects, artists, filmmakers, journalist, software developers, scientists, lawyers, and an extended network of collaborators from a wide range of fields and disciplines. Founded in 2010 Forensic Architecture is committed to the development and dissemination of new evidentiary techniques and undertakes advanced architectural and media investigations on cases of state and corporate violence on behalf of international prosecutors, human rights and civil society groups, as well as political and environmental justice organizations. Forensic Architecture produces and presents architectural evidence in a variety of forums: national and international courts, parliamentary inquiries, peoples’ tribunals, as well as in the media and in cultural spaces.
Story

With Purple Sea, Syrian artist Amel Alzakout documents her experiences of 28 October 2015, based on the same material as in the reconstruction of Forensic Architecture, but in a more immediate way. An event that has been repeated countless times at Europe’s borders since then. An overcrowded boat on its way from Turkey to Greece that is shipwrecked. One of the survivors, the artist Amel Alzakout, recorded the ship’s sinking with a waterproof camera she wore on her wrist. The disturbing footage meets the voice of the director as she tries to escape to another safe place, the past or a possible future.

TOTALLY UNDER CONTROL

GENRE: Documentary
COUNTRIES: USA
YEAR: 2020
LENGTH: 123 min
LANGUAGES: English

Filmed in secret over five months, Totally Under Control uses news footage and interviews with experts and government whistleblowers to show how the administration missed each opportunity to either stop the virus from arriving in the U.S. or prevent its spread. The filmmakers present these events in rapid, blow-by-blow succession, lending the documentary an urgency that contrasts with the languid federal response to the pandemic. The result is a film that feels shocking to watch in retrospect for its crisp frankness. Viewers may have grown numb to the constant churn of distressing news and learned to stomach the administration’s failure to contain the virus. But Totally Under Control refuses to look away, and being reminded of how many warnings went unheeded is unnerving.

The Covid crisis: Politicians, scientists and us

Filmmaker: Suzanne Hillinger (Director and Producer) (Zoom)
Expert: Christian Althaus (University of Bern)
Moderator: Marcus Hall (University of Zurich)

SUZANNE HILLINGER
(Director & Producer)

Suzanne Hillinger is an Emmy-winning documentary filmmaker whose work has been featured on FX, Hulu, Discovery Channel, PBS, Viceland, CNN and MSNBC. Most recently, she directed and produced feature documentary, Totally Under Control, alongside Alex Gibney and Ophelia Harutyunyan. She directed episodes of the New York Times documentary series, The Weekly, for FX and Hulu, and her episode investigating the New York City taxi medallion bubble won a 2020 News and Documentary Emmy, and was part of the series that won the 2020 Pulitzer Prize in Investigative Reporting. Suzanne directed and produced How to Fix an Election, a political documentary for MSNBC, and produced the Emmy-nominated feature documentary Norman Lear: Just Another Version of You, which opened the 2016 Sundance Film Festival.
The magnificent tiger is one of the world’s most beloved, and threatened creatures. Filmmaker, Karl Ammann uncovers their illegal breeding in secret South East Asian tiger farms. His nine-year investigation exposes how body parts are harvested from both live and butchered tigers, and then traded for sale in China’s underground pharmaceutical and jewellery industries. Year after year, Karl has gone to warlord and triad-controlled regions of Myanmar, Laos, and Vietnam to learn how the tigers are traded. He has been able to achieve what Interpol and other anti-trafficking organizations have failed to do, infiltrating top trafficking syndicates and gaining access to major crime hubs and underworlds. Karl has unveiled a number of disturbing findings. He himself is an unlikely hero in this story; a middle-aged man who lives humbly with his wife in Kenya.

This is the everyday life of a Swiss shepherdess who walks with 450 sheep in winter. A portrait of her ongoing challenges and the future prospects of this profession in decline.
SCIENTISTS-AS-FILMMAKERS
SHORT FILMS MADE BY SWISS SCIENTISTS
Online screening on 19-25 November
Filmpodium Cinema on 26-28 November
Wild Utopia  Switzerland, 2020, 3 min, English
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Friday 26 November, 15:00

Story
Climate change and humans are destroying habitable spaces for animals every day. Wild Utopia tells the story of Dan, a teenage deer who is searching for his own patch of forest. A journey full of challenges begins. Will he make it?

Verdraengt  Switzerland, 2021, 3 min, German/English
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Friday 26 November, 15:00

Story
Infrastructure planning in Switzerland is primarily focused on human needs. Nature as a habitat for a variety of animals and plants is often forgotten. This film shows solutions for a sustainable coexistence.

Who Is (Not) Swiss?  Switzerland, 2020, 4 min, Swiss-German/English
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Friday 26 November, 18:00

Story
Appearances may lead to curiosity about where someone is from, oblivious of how such a curiosity may label me different from you and thus may impinge on personal belonging.
LISTEN TO ME SWITZERLAND, 2021, 4 min, Swiss German/English
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Friday 26 November, 18:00

The documentary explores what it means for women to have a voice, where they do not feel heard, and which changes should be made in order to amplify their voices in honour of the 50th anniversary of women’s right to vote in Switzerland.

A SOUND JOURNEY SWITZERLAND, 2020, 3 min, English
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Saturday 27 November, 11:00

Everyday communication requires our brains to perform multi-facetted signal processing of highest complexity. In this video we follow the intricate subconscious processes it takes to make even a simple conversation work successfully.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT MOLLY? SWITZERLAND, 2021, 3 min, English/German
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Saturday 27 November, 11:00

Molly, Ecstasy, MDMA. Different names, same party drug. Let’s have a look at a pill’s journey and at its effects on our body.
THE BITTER STORY OF SWEETNESS
SWITZERLAND, 2020, 4 min, English
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Saturday 27 November, 14:00

LEARNING MACHINE
SWITZERLAND, 2020, 3:00 min, English
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Saturday 27 November, 16:30

In machine learning, we try to learn how data is generated. In this short video, we show how this could actually look like from the perspective of the data-points.
MATERIAL DARWINISM SWITZERLAND, 2021, 3 min, English
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Saturday 27 November, 16:30

Story
Material Darwinism is the story of a consumer that faces the challenge of decluttering her home.

CONCRETE SWITZERLAND, 2020, 1 min, English
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Saturday 27 November, 19:30

Story
While concrete is seen as a monotonous voracious green-space eater, it is still one of the central actors of our modern infrastructures. But did you realise that concrete is more than a material and that its quality depends on the use we make of it?

DUST PUZZLES SWITZERLAND, 2021, 6 min, English/German
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Saturday 27 November, 19:30

Story
All of us are made from stardust. But how where the first small space bodies formed out of space dust? Rushing to the examination, Dave asks for help from his pocket artificial intelligent HAL-IE with this last exam question, but to receive an answer Dave should pass through her puzzles.

JOURNEY OF A PROTON
Switzerland, 2020, 3 min, English
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Sunday 28 November, 11:30

Story
The Large Hadron Collider at CERN is a human endeavor. It took over two decades and 35000 people globally to unravel how the smallest building blocks of all matter receive mass. We use Bharatanatyam, an Indian Classical Dance, to illustrate the journey of protons in the LHC.

LISTEN UP
Switzerland, 2021, 3 min, English/German
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Sunday 28 November, 11:30

Story
Humans and other animals use sounds as a way of communicating in their daily lives. It is a mystery how/when this ability appeared, but the answer might be hidden in a group of animals no one would suspect.

NO DENIAL
Switzerland, 2020, 4 min, English
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Sunday 28 November, 15:30

Story
"NO DENIAL" highlights a recent discovery by a team of Swiss Scientists studying the mechanisms behind SARS-Covid-19 viral infection and underlines the necessity of a closer collaboration between scientists and the media to fight against misinformation.
ORGANS-ON-WHAT? SWITZERLAND, 2021, 4 min, English/German
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Sunday 28 November, 15:30

Story
The story of a novel technology leaving its mark on laboratory experimentation. We follow the work of two friends in biological science, each with different approaches on the technological scale. How do conventional in vitro models perform against Organs on chips?

THE TIP TRIGGER SWITZERLAND, 2021, 4 min, No dialogue
Zurich (Filmpodium Cinema), Sunday 28 November, 15:30

Story
THE TIP TRIGGER is an analogy that demonstrates tipping points through the story of a friendly frog that sees its habitat being slowly destroyed as its neighbours ignore the issue.
